

THE AMISH OUTLAWS

It is a little-known fact that most Amish practice a tradition, similar to the Christian "Confirmation" and Jewish "Bar Mitzvah," called "Rumspringa" (literal translation: "running around") in which Amish children at the age of 16 have an opportunity to live free of the strict Amish code of conduct before deciding if they want to come back and be baptized into the Amish church. Surprisingly, virtually all of the youths return, but sometimes they don't.

Three out of the six of the members of The Amish Outlaws were born and raised in Lancaster, PA and had a strict Amish upbringing. No electricity from land lines, no alcohol, no musical instruments, but their spirits were too wild for the Amish lifestyle. Once they trampled in the "Devil's Playground," there was no turning back. In the years since leaving on Rumspringa, the members of the Amish Outlaws have become very well acclimated to the pleasures and vices of the modern world... music, most of all.

There is no "typical" Amish Outlaws show, but the average crowd can expect to see six men in full Amish garb releasing all of their pent up energy with an infectious joy. With a set that is always evolving as the Brothers discover more and more music and culture, The Amish Outlaws constantly surprise the audience and keep them guessing as to what they could possibly play next, from Johnny Cash to Jay Z, Lady Gaga to Snoop Dogg and Dr. Dre, Bon Jovi to Elvis Presley, Foo Fighters to Frankie Valli, to theme songs from the TV shows they have come to know. Throughout, The Outlaws spin yarns about the Brothers' upbringing and adventures since Rumspringa. Amish Outlaw gigs are less performances than they are initiations into the life of an Amish Outlaw, and parties celebrating the Brothers' newfound freedom.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT THE AMISH OUTLAWS:

Featured as a "Top Entertainment Pick" in New York Magazine's 2012 Winter Weddings issue.

"In a very short time, this band has captured the hearts, minds, and butter churners of the masses with their hilarious onstage performances of everything from Bon Jovi to Snoop & Dre."
- Night & Day Magazine

"...the current saviors of not just the cover music scene, but of any and all racial unrest that exists in our country."
- Steppin' Out Magazine

"The freewheeling ride that is a typical Amish Outlaws gig must be experienced to be believed... a guaranteed good time that is sure to leave folks talking long after the final note is played."
- The Sandpaper Magazine
